Crystal snipe with metal inclusions

DESCRIPTION

(Gallinago gallinago - Beccaccino) Common snipe, typical bird of the Venice lagoon. The metal inclusions are obtained with a normal metal sponge adhered between two layers of crystal. The legs and the base are made in bronze. Gianluca Pagnin is the heir to the wonderful collection accumulated by his family over the last hundred years. Dad Alvise has been producing for Venini for decades. Through his furnace, artists who have made the history of the last century of Murano have passed. Tony Zuccheri, Dino Martens, Flavio Bianconi and many others have entrusted the creation of their precious objects to the atelier Pagnin and the master Vittorio Ferro. All the items we present from the Pagnin collection are unique pieces and correspond exactly to the photos presented. WYSIWYG (what you see is what you get) The attached certificate will certify the origin and the designer of the object.
