DESCRIPTION

This is not a usual vase but a refined object of contemporary design, handmade with the sbruffo technique and grinding glass, which is Alessandro Mandruzzato's speciality. With its clear and original shapes - that underline its robustness and, at the same time, its sophistication - this blue and amber vase belongs to the Deep Sea collection; a collection that revives, enclosed in sculptural shapes that create a special light play, the most representative colours of the sea: the blue of the water and the amber of the light reflecting on the sea surface. Handmade in Murano by Alessandro Mandruzzato using the ancient techniques. Any small defects or slight variation in measurements are to be considered as evidence of this craftsmanship, and especially as an evidence of uniqueness of each single piece. The Deep Sea vase can be coupled with the colorful pieces of the same collection or of the Sunset red collection.
