Aquarium sommerso

DESCRIPTION

In this aquarium the multicolored fishes are made separately.

In a second time the glass master melts them, under heat, under different layers of crystal (see sommerso technique)

A long period of practice is necessary to learn and master the proper procedures, times and heat temperatures to obtain an artwork of such great quality and detail.

Hand-made by Romano Donà in his atelier in Murano using the ancient Muranese techniques. Any small defects or difference in measurements and colours as reported here are to be considered as evidence of this craftsmanship, and especially as an evidence of uniqueness of each single piece.
