DESCRIPTION

Outer space has been condensed in Murano glass: inspired by the planet Saturn, this Saturn's Stone has been designed by the talented Stefano Toso and made by the skilled hands of Romano Donà who is specialized in glass sculpture and the winner of the Premio Murano award for glass masters on 1987.

To create this special sculpture the glassmaster use the sbruffi technique which means that is a thick glass made by placing a number of coloured glass layers on the top of the pea and also the incalmo techniques consisting of distinct parts joined after heat.
